

Archives for London

seminar series

London for Archives: axiom of a genealogy tutor

Via the web or in person everyone researching ancestors in the UK and Ireland can find value in London's archives. International genealogist and author Sherry Irvine, will draw on a decade of online teaching and personal research (20 visits from Vancouver to London in 21 years) to share insights into what genealogists need, what they want, and why London is special.

Sherry "Getting there is half the fun"

Sherry will share the secret to unveiling what genealogists need, such as practical help in identifying relevant sources, from what they want, which is always family facts.

This seminar is a mix of practical advice for both sides of the enquiry desk. It concludes with Sherry's own 5-star list of London places, online and on-site for family history research.

Thursday 1 April 2010, 6:00pm (doors 5:30pm) - 7:30pm at London Metropolitan Archives - Huntley Room
40 Northampton Road, London EC1R 0HB

Advance booking is essential. Please guarantee your place by contacting e: Nicola.Avery@cityoflondon.gov.uk t: 020 7332 3816

AfL seminars are free to all, but preference is given to members if events are oversubscribed. If you book but are then unable to attend please let Nicola know so someone else can join us.

Bring your questions and news items. Refreshments available.

For details of forthcoming seminars, behind the scenes tours and joining AfL visit www.archivesforlondon.org

